Larry, there is no need to keep tag of the updates to this page in the discussion section: dokuwiki has a revision system that shows a lot more about its history .

Queue file urls need updating - I can't find the correct ones. — — Marcin Herda 2015/11/15 02:37

I think now that the old <https://gitorious.org/sbopkg-slackware-queues> site has gone dark, you should create your own local queue files using the queuefile generator script which you can find in the document directory of the installed sbopkg package. Look for “contrib/sqg”.

The outdated information about queues should be replaced with instruction to run “# sqg -a” to generate local copy (the page is read-only).
